Description

Summer, vacations, harmony are the three words that describe this space.

When they called me to receive this property to list it for sale, I told myself: it is just another house, full of bricks like all of San Joaquín, but this house impressed me, one for the size, two for the harmony in the distribution of its spaces and three for its patio with veraneras, bar and seating area, it feels like being in Spanish things.

If the purpose of buying a house is to build a family, this property is the right one, it has the social space for the family on its first level, and a more intimate space on its second level.

The residential area where we find this house is quite quiet and safe, the house being on the corner has a unique privacy that gives way to nature with a diversity of trees that provide shelter.

The photos say it all, here are the technical data and if you want to know more details, do not hesitate to contact me.
